Sens et portée des assurances dites Inland Marine ou Inland Transport insurance

Ce type d'assurance évoque une idée de mouvement, de transport comme son nom l'indique. D'instinct, on pense pour le désigner en français à l'expression la plus simple, celle qui fait usage des mêmes mots. Mais le plus simple n'est pas toujours le plus à propos. Ainsi, entrent dans cette catégorie d'assurance, celles des objets d'art (Fine Arts Floater), des bagages ou des effets personnels (Tourist or personal effects floaters), des fourrures (personal fur floaters), du radium (Radium floater) des ponts et tunnels « and other instrumentalities of transportation and communication », où l'idée de mouvement, de transport est assez indirecte.

On a voulu faire de cette assurance une sorte de refuge commode pour toutes les garanties dont on ne peut restreindre les bornes à un endroit particulier, à l'encontre des assurances contre l'incendie ou le vol ordinaire, par exemple, qui se limitent généralement à un endroit particulier.

À cause de la concurrence que se livraient les assureurs à la faveur d'une imprécision commode, le Joint Standard Committee on Definition and Interpretation of Underwriters Powers of Fire, Marine and Casualty Underwriters est intervenu il y a quelques semaines. Il a déterminé non un cadre définitif, mais une nomenclature dans laquelle on trouve une longue énumération où la seule idée de relation semble être soit le mouvement, (ainsi, l'Insurance of domestic shipments, c'est-à-dire l'assurance des transports intérieurs), soit l'imprécision du lieu; ce qui permet d'englober toutes les assurances flottantes (floaters) étendues à une région ou à plusieurs pays, au lieu d'être limitées à un lieu particulier. En somme, c'est l'assurance débarrassée de la condition de fixité, que dans les vieux contrats on exprimait par les mots « at such location and not elsewhere ».

Voici à titre documentaire la classification adoptée pour l'assurance maritime et pour les risques dits de transports intérieurs.

I. Marine and/or Inland Transportation Policies May Cover Under the Following Conditions : (A) Imports : (1) Imports on consignment may be covered wherever the property may be and without restriction as to time, provided the coverage of the issuing companies includes hazards of transportation. ¶ A shipment "on consignment" shall mean property consigned and entrusted to a factor or agent to be held in his care, or under his control for sale or account of another or for exhibit or trial or approval or auction, and if not disposed of, to be returned. ¶ (2) Imports not on consignment in such places of storage as are usually employed by importers, provided the coverage of the issuing companies includes hazards of transportation. ¶ Such policies may also include the same coverage in respect to property purchased on C.I.F. terms or "spot" purchases for inclusion with or in substitution for bona fide imports. ¶ An import, as a proper subject of marine or transportation insurance, shall be deemed to maintain its character as such so long as the property remains segregated in the original form or package in such a way that it can be identified and has not become incorporated and mixed with the general mass of property in Canada, and shall be deemed to have been completed when such property has been: (a) Sold and delivered by the importer, factor or consignee; or (b) Removed from place of storage as described in paragraph (2) above and placed on sale as part of importer's stock in trade at a point of sale-distribution; or (c) Delivered for manufacture, processing or change in form to premises of the importer or of another used for any such purposes.

(B) Exports: (1) Exports may be covered wherever the property may be without restriction as to time, provided the coverage of the issuing companies includes hazards of transportation. ¶ An export, as a proper subject of marine or transportation insurance, shall be deemed to acquire its character as such when designated or while being prepared for export and retain that character unless diverted for domestic trade, and when so diverted, the provisions of this Ruling respecting domestic shipments shall apply, provided, however, that this provision shall not apply to long established methods of insuring certain commodities, e.g., cotton.

(C) Domestic Shipments: (1) Domestic shipments on consignment, provided the coverage of the issuing companies includes hazards of transportation. (a) Property shipped on consignment for sale or distribution, while in transit and not exceeding thirty (30) days after arrival at consignee's premises or other place of storage or deposit; and (b) Property shipped on consignment for exhibit, or trial, or approval, or auction, while in transit, while in the custody of others and while being returned. ¶ (2) Domestic shipments not on consignment, provided the coverage of the issuing companies includes hazards of transportation, beginning and ending within Canada, provided that such shipments shall not be covered at points of sale-distribution or manufacturing premises nor after arrival at such points or at premises owned, leased or controlled by insured or purchaser, nor for more than thirty (30) days at other place of storage or deposit, except in premises of transportation companies or freight forwarders, when such storage is incident to transportation.

Other aids to navigation and transportation, including dry docks and marine railways, against all risks.

Pour rendre en français Inland Transport Insurance, on pourra bien dire Assurance des transports intérieurs; ce qui est l'équivalent exact de l'expression anglaise. Mais ne vaudrait-il pas mieux préciser et dire Assurance des transports intérieurs et assurances flottantes; ce qui aurait l'avantage de mieux fixer le sens de ce groupe grand comme le monde, puisqu'il englobe des assurances qui ont le monde comme bornes.
