

Contributors Collaborateurs

Volume 12, numéro 3, february 1984

URI : <https://id.erudit.org/iderudit/1018944ar>

DOI : <https://doi.org/10.7202/1018944ar>

Aller au sommaire du numéro

Éditeur(s)

Urban History Review / Revue d'histoire urbaine

ISSN

0703-0428 (imprimé)

1918-5138 (numérique)

Découvrir la revue

Citer ce document

(1984). Contributors. Urban History Review / Revue d'histoire urbaine, 12(3), 71–71. <https://doi.org/10.7202/1018944ar>

Contributors/Collaborateurs

Fred A. Dahms is a Professor of Geography at the University of Guelph. His article is part of a continuing study of the changing functions of small Ontario settlements. [Professor F.A. Dahms, Department of Geography, University of Guelph, Guelph, Ontario, N1G 2W1.]

Margaret W. Andrews is an Assistant Professor in the History Department of Washington State University. She received her Ph.D. from the University of British Columbia in 1979; her dissertation was on medical services in Vancouver, B.C., 1886–1920. Her work has appeared in B.C. Studies, the Journal of Canadian Studies/Revue d'études canadiennes, and Histoire sociale/Social History. She is currently working on the early history of public health services in B.C. and the northwestern U.S. [Professor Margaret W. Andrews, Department of History, Washington State University, Pullman, Washington, U.S.A., 99164.]

Robert S. Robson is a Ph.D. student at the University of Guelph, Department of History. He is currently researching his doctoral thesis entitled "Building Ontario Resource Towns." [Robert S. Robson, Department of History, University of Guelph, Ontario, N1G 2W1.]

Thomas Thorner is an instructor in the Humanities Department of Mount Royal College in Calgary. He has published numerous papers dealing with Alberta's legal history and is now engaged in a full length study of the history of criminal justice in Alberta. [Thomas Thorner, Department of Humanities, Mount Royal College, 4825 Richard Road South West, Calgary, Alberta, T3E 6K6.]

Neil B. Watson works as an assistant in the City of Calgary Archives. He has published two papers dealing with criminal justice in Western Canada. [Neil B. Watson, Archives, City of Calgary, Post Office Box 2100, Calgary, Alberta, T2P 2M5.]

Jim Burant is Chief, Collections Management Section, Picture Division, Public Archives of Canada. He attended Carleton University, where he obtained an Honours B.A. in History (1974), and an M.A. in Canadian Studies (1979). He has worked for the Public Archives of Canada since 1976, first with the National Photography Collection, and since 1977, with the Picture Division. Mr. Burant has published articles in such magazines as the Journal of Canadian Art History, the Canadian Art Review, and the Archivist, as well as for the Dictionary of Canadian Biography, and he has organized one exhibition for the PAC, Friendly Spies On The Northern Tour, 1815–1837: The Sketches of Henry Byam Martin (Ottawa, 1980). [Mr. Jim Burant, Chief, Collections Management, Picture Division, Public Archives of Canada, 395 Wellington Street, Ottawa, Ontario, K1A 0N3.]

Annalise K. Walker has worked as the Curator, Canadian Architectural Archives, University of Calgary Library since 1977. She was educated in Germany, attending schools in Berlin, Munich and Hannover. She has worked as a Library Assistant in Glasgow, Scotland and at the University of Calgary Library. Ms. Walker received a Diploma in Archives Management from the University of Alberta Library School (1979). [Annalise K. Walker, Curator, Canadian Architectural Archives, University of Calgary Libraries, University of Calgary, 2500 University Drive North West, Calgary, Alberta, T2N 1N4.]